Title 50th Anniversary Of The March On Washington \(Streaming Video\) (26871)
Physical Color; Sound; 69 minutes
Copyrighted 2013
Distributor McNeil/Lehrer Productions (MCN)
Audience Middle 6-8, Senior High 9-12 (MS)
Synopsis A series of conversations and remembrances, broadcast on the "PBS News Hour" in August 2013, on the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington. Fifty years after the March on Washington, African-Americans still confront high rates of unemployment, segregation in education and race-based partisan gridlock. In what areas have we seen progress? Interviews with Taylor Branch and Shukree Hassan Tilghman; William Jones (author of "The March on Washington: Jobs, Freedom and the Forgotten History of Civil Rights)" offers an overview of how the March on Washington came to be, why President Kennedy wanted it to be called off and what roles women of color played on that historic day.

Physical Color; Sound; 84 minutes
Copyrighted 2007
Distributor California Newsreel (CANEWS)
Audience Middle 6-8, Senior High 9-12 (MS)
Synopsis Banished vividly recovers the too-quickly forgotten history of racial cleansing in America when thousands of African Americans were driven from their homes and communities by violent, racist mobs. The film places these events in the context of present day race relations by following three concrete cases where black and white citizens warily explore if there is common ground for reconciliation over these expulsions. Will the United States ever make meaningful reparations for the human rights abuses suffered, then and now, against its African American citizens? Can reconciliation between the races be possible without them?

Audience Senior High 9-12 (S)
Synopsis Martin Luther King Jr.'s vision of optimism and pride for African Americans has been tarnished and in the case of many black youth, virtually shattered. Youth worker Ian Brewster introduces us to kids where stories of drug deals, playground shootouts and SWAT team takedowns are chillingly common. He hears from teenagers who say racism holds them back more than poverty. Brewster stops short of trying to supply easy answers to a difficult problem. He despairs at the "gangsta" attitude he encounters, and acknowledges that the problem is never clear cut. As he says, "Something is killing us slowly, and it is not white culture, the government or the police."
